

H.L. Davis – 2001

H.L. Davis was one of the first advocates for golf programs in high schools in Kentucky. He served as Dean of Boys at Henry Clay High School from 1934 to 1944, and was Supervisor of Occupational Information and Guidance for the Kentucky Department of Education from 1944 to 1945 and Principal of Lafayette High School from 1945 to 1962. He was a former president of the Central Kentucky Golf Association and golf coach at both Lafayette High School and Henry Clay High School, winning several state championships.
